

Winter Spiti

EX-DELHI | 6N/7D

About This Experience

Step into the surreal world of Winter Spiti, where the Himalayas wear a blanket of snow and time stands still. This cold desert transforms into a mystical white wonderland, untouched, raw, and deeply spiritual. Frozen rivers, snow-covered villages, and silent valleys create a landscape that feels otherworldly. Monasteries emerge like mirages from the snow, offering peace and timeless wisdom. With minimal crowds and maximum beauty, winter is when Spiti reveals its purest self. Roads are challenging, yet every turn rewards you with breathtaking solitude. The warmth of mountain hospitality contrasts the chill in the air.

Highlights

Sangla - A lush valley in Kinnaur, famous for its apple orchards and riverside beauty.

Chitkul: The last inhabited village near the Indo-Tibet border, known for its wooden houses, Baspa River, and pristine Himalayan views.

Kalpa - A serene village offering majestic views of the snow-clad Kinnaur Kailash range.

Suicide Point: A dramatic cliffside viewpoint near Kalpa known for its sharp drop and panoramic vistas.

Khab Sangam - The stunning confluence of the Spiti and Sutlej Rivers near Khab Bridge, surrounded by arid mountains.

Nako View Point: Offers sweeping views of Reo Purgyl and the remote Hangrang Valley.

Gue Monastery: Home to the 500-year-old naturally preserved mummy of a Buddhist monk, encased in glass at 10,000+ ft altitude.

Tabo Monastery: One of the oldest operating Buddhist monasteries (built in 996 AD), famed for its ancient murals and scriptures.

Dhankar Monastery: A 1,000-year-old monastery dramatically perched on a cliff overlooking the confluence of Spiti and Pin rivers.

Pin Valley: A remote high-altitude valley in Spiti, marked by its rugged terrain and pristine landscapes, offering a serene escape into untouched Himalayan wilderness.

Langza: A fossil-rich village with a giant Buddha statue and views of Chau Chau Kang Nilda peak.

Komic: Among the world's highest motorable villages (4,587 m), with a quaint monastery.

Hikkim: Location of the world's highest post office, still operational and popular among travelers.

Key Monastery: The largest monastery in Spiti, a stunning fortress-like structure with ancient thangkas and monks in residence.

Chicham Bridge: Asia's highest suspension bridge built over a deep gorge at 13,596 ft, connecting Kibber and Chicham villages.

What they say?

Mechuka trip: Excellent coordination, support, and hospitality. The Guide and vehicle were great. The stays, staff, and food were very nice. Followed the trip schedule perfectly. I am impressed with "soloyolo". I would definitely recommend "soloyolo" to others too.

KALYANI JAMUNKAR

I recently went on the Tawang - Arunachal Pradesh trip with Solo Yolo, and it was an amazing experience. The itinerary was very well planned, covering all the major highlights without feeling rushed. Every detail was thoughtfully considered, making the trip smooth and enjoyable. The food throughout the trip was good, with a great mix of local flavors and comforting options.

SHIKHA MUNDRA

We had an amazing experience in Zaskar with Solo Yolo. Loved the curated itinerary, stays, inclusion of local experiences in the trip. Our group leader, Bikash was exceptional in conducting the tour and left no stone unturned to make the trip the best we have ever had. Created some wholesome memories for life with the most fun people around. Looking forward to travel with Solo Yolo again.

APALA BHUNIA

Our journey with Soloyolo Group on the Spiti trip, under the guidance of Bikash Terang, was an absolute fun. The blend of individuals from Delhi and Mumbai infused our adventure with politeness and humor, creating an atmosphere of bakchodi and camaraderie. Bikash's leadership ensured smooth navigation through Spiti's breathtaking landscapes and cultural wonders.

SHUBHAM

My first trip with SoloYolo was "BHUTAN" and it turned out to be the best decision ever! First thing I liked the most about SoloYolo is their itinerary because these guys truly believe in your making experience immersive and rich! Their itinerary was different from the standard ones and it led me to the made booking!

BHOOMI SHAH
